Target market statement

This Target Market Statement explains the types of customers our product is designed for, types of customers it is not suitable for and how we expect it to be distributed. This document is not intended for customers or operational sales staff.

In many instances, customers may have need for more than one product and they may then be offered a combination that would be compatible with those needs, subject to the eligibility criteria for each product. They should not be offered combinations of products that do not provide fair value.

Risks of customer harm can be avoided by ensuring the customer's needs, objectives, interests and characteristics are met by the product and coverage selected, taking into account and adjusting for any aspects that may make them vulnerable customers (e.g. poor health, resilience or capability).

Features you should be aware of when considering this product

Your sales journey should identify the eligibility of customers and ensure that information is presented to them in a way that supports them through the process and enables them to make an informed decision whether the product meets their needs.

Where there are different underwriting and cover options available for this product customers should consider which option best suits their needs and circumstances.

Your customer journey and interactions should highlight and identify any customers with potential areas of vulnerability and address them accordingly.

Intended method of Distribution

The product should be sold by an authorised insurance intermediary, in line with FCA regulation and has been approved for retail distribution whether advised or non-advised. The sale of the product can be via online, telephone or face-to-face channels.

If the product is distributed to the customer via more than one broker (including ARs) then the second tier broker:

should not have their own agency with any Bspoke entity.

must deal directly with the end customer rather than through a third-tier broker.

Distribution costs, fees and remuneration

The product supports the payment of commission to distributors within the ranges detailed in your Agreement with Bspoke (or our approved representative). If fees are charged to the customer for new business or renewal you should ensure this does not erode the value of the product and is commensurate with the work done in the Distribution chain.

Where a policy is cancelled mid term and outside the cooling off period the return premium to the customer must be at a gross level and include the proportion of commission paid.

Value Assessment

We are satisfied that the pricing, the cover, the design of the product, the claims settlement process, and the distribution methods we have chosen result in a product that represents fair value to our end customers.

Other information which may be relevant to distributors

We are satisfied that the pricing, the cover, the design of the product, the claims settlement process and the distribution methods we have chosen result in a product that represents fair value to our end customers.

This product does not adversely impact vulnerable customers and delivers outcomes that are the same as those for customers with no characteristics of vulnerability.

As part of the process of assessment, we have reviewed, amongst other things:

- General market pricing
- Our pricing in relation to the product loss ratio
- Product value over a reasonably foreseeable future period
- Renewal retention
- Mid-term cancellations rates
- Operational and claims service levels and outcomes
- Customer complaints
- Distributor feedback
- Our pay-aways and the general distribution costs of our broker panel as disclosed to us.
- Customer needs and any changes in the last 12 months

We have also considered the pricing and premiums in relation to FCA regulations in PS21/5, ICOBS 6B and Consumer Duty and are satisfied we comply with the necessary requirements.

As part of our assessment, we concluded that time will not diminish the value of the product to the end customer. The customer may report a claim on the last day of the policy period and receive a settlement that would not be distinctly different to the settlement he would have received had he reported the claim on the first day of the period of insurance. The product also contains provisions to protect against the erosion of value over subsequent renewals and policy periods.

This document should be read in conjunction with the Policy Wording and Insurance Product Information Document (IPID) for the product.

Statement of Demands and Needs

This product meets the demands and needs of Golfclubs in the UK who have a range of buildings, structures, activities, and employees and need to insure them against loss or damage or their legal liability to the public. It is suitable for Clubs of all types from small rural settings to larger commercially run businesses with wider facilities that are privately or publicly owned.
