Target market statement

This Target Market Statement explains the types of customers our product is designed for, types of customers it is not suitable for and how we expect it to be distributed. This document is not intended for customers or operational sales staff.

In many instances, customers may have need for more than one product and they may then be offered a combination that would be compatible with those needs, subject to the eligibility criteria for each product. They should not be offered combinations of products that do not provide fair value.

Risks of customer harm can be avoided by ensuring the customer's needs, objectives, interests and characteristics are met by the product and coverage selected, taking into account and adjusting for any aspects that may make them vulnerable customers (e.g. poor health, resilience or capability).

Features you should be aware of when considering this product

Your sales journey should identify the eligibility of customers and ensure that information is presented to them in a way that supports them through the process and enables them to make an informed decision whether the product meets their needs.

Where there are different underwriting and cover options available for this product customers should consider which option best suits their needs and circumstances.

Your customer journey and interactions should highlight and identify any customers with potential areas of vulnerability and address them accordingly.

Intended method of Distribution
The product should be sold by an authorised insurance broker, in line with FCA regulation on an advised or non-advised basis. The sale of the product can be via online, telephone or face-to-face channels. If the product is distributed to the customer via more than one broker then the second tier broker must have their own client money permissions and must deal direct with the end customer.
Distribution costs, fees and remuneration
The product supports the payment of commission to distributors within the ranges detailed in your Agreement with Bspoke (or our approved representative). If fees are charged to the customer for new business or renewal you should ensure this does not erode the value of the product and is commensurate with the work done in the Distribution chain. Where a policy is cancelled mid term and outside the cooling off period the return premium to the customer must be at a gross level and include the proportion of commission paid.
Value Assessment
We are satisfied that the pricing, the cover, the design of the product, the claims settlement process, and the distribution methods we have chosen result in a product that represents fair value to our end customers.
Other information which may be relevant to distributors
We are satisfied that the pricing, the cover, the design of the product, the claims settlement process and the distribution methods we have chosen result in a product that represents fair value to our end customers. This product does not adversely impact vulnerable customers and delivers outcomes that are the same as those for customers with no characteristics of vulnerability. We have also considered the pricing and premiums in relation to FCA regulations in PS21/5, ICOBS 6B and Consumer Duty and are satisfied we comply with the necessary requirements.
Statement of Demands and Needs
This product meets the demands and needs of Film production companies in the UK who have a range of equipment and employees and need to insure them against loss or damage or their legal liability to the public. It is suitable for companies of all types from small to large companies.
